

Elizabeth Zappa

Gifts

Sometimes the best gifts are ones we can't see,
Like love, friendship, patience, and honesty.
They are gifts you can't take back to the store,
Lose, break, or sell when you're poor.
You don't put them in a box or closet, but in your heart,
And there they will remain, even when we part.
They won't gather dust, they'll be used so much,
Whenever you're bored, lonely, excited and such.
You can't place a price on gifts like these,
Or go on without them with much ease.
All these gifts I gave to you, years ago when we met,
And you return them to me every chance your get.
So on this day, celebrated with me, your friend,
Know that I am in this friendship 'till the end.
That is the gift I give to you,
And I just want to let you know it's true.